PRACTICAL SKILLS FOR BUSINESS PERFORMANCE

NQF 3: FOOD AND BEVERAGE PACKAGING LEARNERSHIP (RPL)

SAQA REGISTERED ID 57694

National Certificate: Food & Beverage Packaging Operations (Fast Track)

1. HOW TO BENEFIT NOW FROM RPL

We all know that RPL (Recognition of Prior Learning) is intended to redress past injustices. However, since the inception of the term as an NQF principle, it has been largely uncharted territory particularly within the SETA landscape. CPC in conjunction with FoodBev successfully piloted a fresh approach to RPL based on the QCTO Policy and Procedure rather than the cumbersome procedures implemented by SETA in the past.

Here is your opportunity to reward and recognise your loyal permanent Packaging Operators who typically coach and upskill endless intakes of unemployed youth with nothing to show for it themselves!

CPC has a fully endorsed Packaging RPL process based on a minimalistic approach from a time, process and cost point of view.

2. WHO SHOULD BE INCLUDED?

Imagine the improvement in morale amongst your packaging staff having this priceless qualification in hand. In addition it is an opportunity for the business to multiskill them across various operating areas and update them to current best operating practice.

How much more empowered will they feel to transfer their practical workplace learning and experience in a meaningful rather than obligatory manner. Our screening process will assist you in appointing the correct delegates.

LESS COST, LESS TIME, MORE VALUE - CREATING EQUAL HEROES
